

How Hand Papermaking Arrived at a R1 University: An Overview from the Driver's Seat

Tim Barrett

Professor Emeritus of the School of Library & Information Sciences
UI Center for the Book

4:00 pm

Wednesday, April 21, 2021

Please join us on Zoom:

<https://uiowa.zoom.us/j/91356583679>

Tim Barrett will share two of the bright spots in his career that occurred after he arrived at the University of Iowa Center for the Book in 1986. In the first, he will describe how his team made the paper that now sits beneath the Charters of Freedom – our Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights, and the Constitution – which reside in the National Archives Rotunda (Washington, D.C.). In his second example, Professor Barrett will share how his research helped reveal some of the secrets behind the surprising longevity and aesthetic appeal of 15th century European paper.

Today, he is engaged in an end-of-career quest to help raise $1.75M in 10 months for the UI Center for the Book.

Individuals with disabilities are encouraged to attend all University of Iowa sponsored events. If you are a person with a disability who requires a reasonable accommodation in order to participate in this program, please contact Professor Miriam Gilbert in advance at 319-887-5256 or miriam-gilbert@uiowa.edu.

~ Sponsored by the Emeritus Faculty Council ~